HEALTHCARE ADMINISTRATION

PROGRAM LENGTH: 15 MONTHS

Advance your healthcare career with a master's in healthcare administration

Hospitals, clinics, long-term care centers, and other healthcare facilities need specialized administrators who have the business skills and medical savvy to help improve delivery of services to patients. With the right healthcare administration degree, you could launch or advance your healthcare career.

Program objectives

Our master's degree in healthcare administration is designed to help you start or advance your career as a professional administrator in any number of healthcare-related settings. As part of your program, you could gain the advanced business, accounting, medical, and human resources skills you need to take your healthcare career further.

With your master's degree you could be qualified to work for hospitals, medical offices, home-health groups, long-term care facilities, medical laboratories, clinics, or public health organizations.
